INFORMATION ABOUT THIRD PARTY BARRING

What is barring?

A gambling provider or the Liquor and Gambling Commissioner can bar a person from places where commercial gambling activities take place, and from participating in those gambling activities. The places include the licensed gaming areas of hotels, clubs and the Adelaide Casino. Activities include purchasing an SA Lotteries product and betting with Ubet SA, a licensed bookmaker or an authorised interstate betting operator.

The purpose of this is to protect the patron, or the patron's family members from harm.

This information is just about involuntary barring initiated by a third party. However, the law also allows patrons to request barring without having to establish harm.

How does involuntary barring work?

When a third party requests barring, whether from a gambling provider or Consumer and Business Services (CBS) directly, CBS will make contact with the affected gambling provider, the patron and the applicant. The participation of the Applicant is essential to the process. This is because the applicant will have, or know how to obtain, the information CBS needs to decide whether to make continuing orders.

In most cases, the approach will result in the patron agreeing to be barred.

If the patron disagrees or declines to participate CBS will call a hearing, and may require the patron and others to attend the hearing.

If an order is made, we will need a photo of the patron and notice of the order will be given to the relevant gambling providers.

How long am I barred for?

Orders can be made for up to 3 years, and can only be varied by application to CBS.

Will my personal details and barring orders be kept confidential?

Personal details are kept confidential by both CBS and each of the relevant gambling providers. However, if CBS is notified of a breach, they may provide information about barring and breaching, including details that identify you, to police and to gambling providers and their organisations, to the extent necessary for the orderly management of the barring scheme.
