Reasons for Decision

In reaching my determination, I have had regard to the objects of the Liquor Licensing Act 1997.

Exemption from the Responsible Person Requirements

It is a requirement under section 97(1) of the Liquor Licensing Act 1997 (the Act) that premises must be personally supervised by a responsible person at all times that they are open to the public, however under section 97(2) of the Act the Commissioner may exempt a licensee from this requirement and approve alternative arrangements for the supervision and management of the business. An exemption can only be granted if the licensing authority is satisfied that, in view of the limited scope of a business conducted under a licence, an exemption would not compromise the principle of responsible service of alcohol and consumption of liquor.

The licensee of the Somerton Squash and Racquetball Club Inc has applied for an exemption from this requirement.

The applicant has submitted the following reasons why they should be granted an exemption:

The club is a not for profit small club run by volunteers. The club on average has no more than 24 people on site. The club has limited other revenue and this revenue is vital to put back into growing the sport of squash in our local community. The clubs primary purpose is not the sale, supply and consumption of liquor but is ancillary to the activities of the club. Only people who have played squash may have a drink afterwards. The hours of operation of the club are not late.

Decision

The requirement under section 97 of the Act supports the second object of the "...to ensure that the sale, supply and consumption of liquor is undertaken safely and responsibly, consistent with the principle of responsible service and consumption of liquor."

The principle of responsible service of alcohol is an important aspect of the licensing regime and contributes to overall public safety surrounding the consumption of liquor. In deciding whether to grant an exemption from these requirements the interest of the public should be weighed against the burden of ensuring a responsible person is present at all times on a licensee.

As the club have not yet held a liquor licence, the club is unable to provide sales data demonstrating the limited scope of liquor sales at the premises, however given the nature of the premises, being a relatively small local sporting club, I am satisfied that they will likely trade as they have outlined in their submission.

However, in saying this the trading conditions that will apply to their licence will allow them to trade quite late with a potential capacity of 100. Should the premises reach the maximum permitted capacity on a Saturday night, for example, then an exemption would not be appropriate. For this reason, I will condition the exemption to only apply when there are less than 50 persons at the premises, and also to only apply before 10pm. This will ensure that should they trade later in the evening or with a greater capacity that an appropriately approved person is present.

I note that this exemption applies only to the requirement to have a responsible person present at all times, and that the licensee must still comply with the provisions of the General Code of Practice requiring all persons involved in the sale and supply of liquor to have completed approved responsible service of alcohol training.
